1. Applicants should amend the Cross-References to Related Applications information to the status of the now issued parent application set forth in paragraph No. 0001 on page 1 of the specification.

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. § 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 1-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kreckel et al. The reference discloses (note particularly the Figures, particularly Figures 4 and 2, column 1 lines 9-18, column 2 line 63 - column 3 line 12, column 4 line 59 - column 5 line 38) a substantial anticipation of the claimed invention, disclosing an adhesive punchout article comprising an adhesive layer with an inner recess 5, the outer line of the adhesive punchout sharing no common point with the outline of the inner recess. As such, as shown particularly in Figure 4 with the release sheet 4, adhesive 3, foam layer 2 and reservoir cutout 5 the reference clearly discloses an adhesive backed medicine pill die cut bandage for application to the skin.

The reference is not an anticipation because it fails to disclose for claim 1 the presence of any specific pharmaceutical active ingredients, such as those selected by applicants, and the Examiner further believes the presence of almost any other pharmaceutical active ingredients would be an obvious modification to one of ordinary skill, in the absence of unexpected results not set forth on the record. Additionally, with respect to the dependent claims, such elements as the presence of the internal cutout having a rectangular shape (claim 4), the thickness of the adhesive layer and matrix layer in sum embodiments being less than the maximum extent of the internal cutout in longitudinal or transverse direction (claim 5) and as mentioned above the various ingredients for not only filler but also adhesive and matrix layer are each obvious modifications to one of ordinary skill, in the absence of unexpected results.

4. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Daniel Zirker whose telephone number is (571) 272-1486. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday-Thursday from 8:30 A.M. to 6:00 P.M. The examiner can also be reached on alternate Fridays.
